

Ateneo de Manila University is pleased to announce that applications for the United Board Faculty Scholarships are now being accepted for the academic year 2012-2013. The scholarship is intended for young faculty members who would like to pursue a masteral degree at Ateneo de Manila on a full-time basis.

The scholarship will provide tuition fees for the completion of a two-year MA/MS program (Non-thesis Track), an allowance for food, housing and books. It will also provide a health insurance coverage, roundtrip airfare from country of origin and other miscellaneous travel-related expenses.

Download the application for the United Board Faculty Development Scholarship Program and the application for Admission to Graduate Studies for the ADMU – Loyola Schools at: <http://ateneo.edu/index.php?p=2230>.

All applications and requests for further information should be sent to Mr. Glenn de Leon at the Office of International Relations, 3/F Faber Hall, Ateneo de Manila University, Loyola Heights, Quezon City, 1108, PHILIPPINES. Email address: oir@admu.edu.ph.

The application deadline is 18 February 2012. The successful candidates will be notified by March 2012 and will begin their program on the first semester of academic year 2012-2013 (June 11, 2012).

As part of the United Board's new initiatives, special preference will be given to candidates applying for degrees in fields related to environment, inter-religious understanding, peace studies, or a related area.

* This graduate degree program has thesis and non-thesis options.

 This is a non-thesis no-thesis graduate degree program.

In general, a master's degree with thesis has an academic requirement of 36 units. Non-thesis programs may have additional courses in lieu of the thesis.

Aside from the above requirements, most graduate programs require comprehensive examinations.
